Message of the Chairman

Board of Governors

It gives me a profound sense of satisfaction to subscribe this message for 'The Hallmark', the literary magazine of Army Burn Hall Collage for Boys. A wide array of activities being carried out throughout the year at the College have exquisitely been portrayed, which reflect positively on the standards that the College has been able to achieve over the years. Being Chairman Board of Governors, I remain fully aware of all endeavours which are put in to create an environment, wherein, the students should imbibe fine moral and social attributes, besides attaining excellent academic results. I must say, the College has been able to live upto its traditions and rich legacy.

Let me also take this opportunity to urge upon both the faculty and the students that they cannot afford to be complacent about their achievements. The College has the most attractive location, sufficient infrastructure and reasonable resources, therefore, it is incumbent upon all of us to make it a centre of excellence and the best seat of learning.

Dear Hallians! We are passing through a highly challenging and competitive time. The nations which did not invest in human capital seem to be left out. Pakistan is unfortunately counted among the least educated nations of the world. It is here that the role of institutions like Burn Hall lies, which should take the lead and prepare competent, conscientious and committed citizens, who should be able to lift our beloved motherland to new heights. I am sure, the Hallians are cognizant of their responsibilities and they will play a leading role in the days to come.

At the end, I compliment the College faculty, particularly the Editorial Board, for composing and publishing this magazine, with a sense of purpose and commitment.

Lieutenant General Malik Zafar Iqbal, Hilal-i-Imtiaz (Military)

Message of the Deputy Chairman

Board of Governors

Army Burn Hall College for Boys is ranked among the top most institutions of Pakistan. It has a rich history and fine traditions. There are numerous distinguished citizens of our country who proudly claim to be Hallians. The past achievements and rich College traditions pose challenge to the faculty as well as students every year, not only to maintain the past records but also to continuously improve upon them.

Prowling through the pages of 'The Hallmark', besides having personal knowledge being Deputy Chairman Board of Governors about all activities of the College, I feel an immense amount of satisfaction to subscribe that the College is doing well in all its pursuits. All the facets of education, curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular, are well taken care of. A lot of efforts have been made in the past to improve accommodation, educational infrastructure, academic standards and living environment of the College. I am sure, this journey will continue even more earnestly in the days to come.

I urge upon both the faculty and students to remain always cognizant of the mission of the College and the role that it has to play, for providing the youth with the best possible education and sound training in citizenship. The Hallians have to make strenuous efforts to elate their alma mater to even greater heights, commensurating with the College motto.

I compliment the Principal and his team, particularly the Editorial Board, for publishing a fine magazine, which has been composed with a sense of taste and aesthetics.

Major General Nadeem Raza, Hilal-i-Imtiaz (Military)

Message of the Principal

It gives me immense pleasure that ‘The Hallmark 2014-15’ is in your hands. It covers a wide range of activities, spreading over different segments. The contributions are from budding writers, who have given vent to their feelings and emotions. This is, in fact, the purpose of this magazine that the faculty and students should be provided with a forum where they can improve and polish their artistic skills. No one can be happier than a head of an educational institution, who witnesses steady transformation and growth of individuals, who join as toddlers and leave as grown up youth. In fact, he relives with every entry and passes out with them. The pictures, poems and reflections by the writers fit in the overall presentation and certainly helped embellish the magazine. The Editorial Board and all contributors deserve my compliment and appreciation.

I would urge young Hallians through this forum ‘The Hallmark’ that they should devote their energies to their education. Their parents and the nation are spending huge sums of amount on their education. The best return of all this investment would be their matching response through acquisitions of sound education and strong personalities, so that they should be able to serve the nation once responsibilities fall on their shoulders. Education is not merely seeking good grades, but ‘ripeness’, as Shakespeare would say, or whole-sum development of the personality, where character serves as the bedrock.

At the end, I once again felicitate the Editorial Board and all contributors for their interesting and useful contributions. I wish and pray for every success of Army Burn Hall College for Boys in the days to come.

May Allah be our protector. Ameen!

From the Editor's Pen

Pen-the first ever tool God Almighty went for is duly mightier than what might be mightiest in the eyes of the world. Words-the supreme creature of pen and the supreme identity of the supreme being are pricier than what is the priciest of the entire world, indeed priceless.

Book-the wordless world of the words is unavoidably classier than what the classy claim to be the classiest of all. Yes dear readers, the book. The same is lying before you, the Hallmark! The petals of this very flower incense all its readers the perpetual fragrance.

Teacher sharing their experiences, so are the taught-Hallians. It is an account of a delight some circumnavigation. Besides, the book does attempt to shift its readers from the bitter realities of the world to an ideal state of mind, then takes them back to the real world but with the art how to abate as well as encounter the challenges of life. It is where students employ their full blast intellect to transform potentialities into realities.

That's what the ultimate aspiration of every single person is! Finally, your true appreciation alongwith honest critique will be regarded as a milestone in further advancement as well as enhancement of the same-Hallmark.

Annual Parents' Day and Prize Distribution Ceremony 2014

Honourable Chief Guest Maj Gen Nadeem Raza, HI (M), Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Assalam-o-Alaikum!

I warmly welcome you all on behalf of the students, staff of Burn Hall Boys College, Abbottabad, and on my own behalf to the Parents' Day function of this renowned institution of the country. The worthy and honourable chief guest, Sir, it is a matter of singular honour and pride for the young Hallians, the faculty and myself that you have very kindly consented to spare some time from your very busy schedule to grace the occasion.

Worthy Audience!

Parents' Day is the most significant, festive and auspicious occasion of the year, because it marks the culmination of the curricular and co-curricular activities of the College calendar. It also happens to be the most memorable day for the young Hallians, because they receive applause and recognitions from their parents and guests on their hard earned achievements during the year.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

Ever since the assumption of the office of the Principal in 2013, I have been assuring the parents of my commitment to improve the academic standards of the College, in live with their aspirations and in conformity with the fast changing scenario, where grades and merit reign supreme. Today, by the grace of Allah Almighty, I feel elevated along with my talented team that we have become able to produce very good results. The academic performance of Hallians has been remarkable in the year 2013-2014 in SSC-II examination. A total of 221 students appeared in the board examination, 168 students secured A1 and A Grades. The overall GPA was 5.25. In class 9th, 215 students appeared, 149 students secured A1 and A Grades and 66 students achieved 1st Division.

At HSSC Level the young Hallians also strived hard to secure good grades. In HSSC-II, 201 students appeared and 168 students grabbed 1st Division in the annual examination 55, students secured A1 and A Grades, while 57 students were placed in B Grade. The overall class GPA was 3.37%. In HSSC-I, 184 students appeared, 138 students were placed in 1st Division, 68 students secured A1 and A Grades. The result of this year is comparatively better than the previous session. In the 'O' Levels exam, 24 students appeared. The number of A*, A and B Grades obtained by the students is 164. It is important to note that A* starts from 90% and above marks and A Grade starts from 70% and above marks. In A Level exam students are also doing very well.

Literary activities is a regular feature of students' training. It aims at developing the art of public speaking through debates and declamation contests. Every year we organize All Pakistan Burn Hall Bilingual Declamation Contest in which teams of renowned institutions of the country participate. Our orators Zain Tariq, Khizer Nizami, Bilal Liaqat and Asfandyar participated in the All Pakistan Bilingual Declamation Contest held at WAPDA Cadet College Tarbila. These boys brought distinct on and laurels to the College. They grabbed an overall 2nd position in the contest. This year we also hosted a sport fixture with Cadet College Hassan Abdal. Hallians won the fixture by winning two match out of four.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

I must inform you that our revised, updated and closely monitored policies, based upon the remedial strategies and absolute commitment, have provided us with a solid academic background, which has started yielding dividends. To keep abreast with the latest trends in the field of education and live upto the periodic instructions of the Chairman Board of Governors, we have adapted our curricular and are focusing on new teaching methodologies for ideal teaching learning process. Existence of a conducive environment enhances the creative capabilities of pupils and reshapes their personalities in a tension free and home like environment. We provide the best possible environment to our pupils.

Worthy Audience!

A look at the science exhibition in different areas, put up by our talented students will give you an insight into the creative potential and performance of the young Hallians. Such activities continue under the auspices of different clubs and societies, operating at the College throughout the year and culminate on the Parents' Day.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

When we talk of the young Hallians' participation in the co-curricular activities, I would a remiss if I do not mention their participation in the Inter House and All Pakistan Declamation Contests. They participate in such contests with vigour and enthusiasm under the guidance of the Burn Hall Faculty.

Worthy Audience!

I extend my heartiest congratulations and appreciation to the talented young Hallians, who are going to receive prizes from the Chief Guest. I also congratulate the parents who are fortunate enough to see their young ones receiving their prizes on this auspicious day. # Chief Guest's Address

Annual Parents' Day And Prize Distribution Ceremony 2014

Brig Mukhtar Muhammad, Principal Army Burn Hall College for Boys, respectable parents, distinguished guests, dear students, ladies and gentlemen,

Assalam-o-Alaikum!

It is a singular honour and privilege for me to be amongst you on this auspicious occasion of Annual Parents' Day of Army Burn Hall College for boys. At this particular moment my mind is full of thoughts of my own school and college life, when I was taught and groomed by my parents and teachers. Education is not merely acquisition of degrees and certificates, rather its real objective is to produce versatile, dedicated, self disciplined, well motivated, well groomed and dynamic citizens, who can positively contribute towards the development and prosperity of the country. In this direction, Burn Hall is playing a pivotal role in the overall grooming and personality development of youth of our nation.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

Discipline is one of the most important aspects of our life and without discipline and hard work vertical progression in career is impossible. If you want to reap the crop of your best efforts, you have to inculcate the high standards of discipline in yourself. No nation can make progress without discipline, as it is a cardinal virtue of every great and prosperous nation. Mark my words, through education and discipline only, you can touch the seven skies.

Dear Students!

To be decisive is a great blessing and I must tell you that the bold decisions are at the heart of a leader's success. So take your decisions boldly and come forward with enthusiasm and serve your nation by leading from the front. I see the bright and prosperous future of this country because bright future leaders are sitting in this Hall. As every second of yours is precious and it is going to be decisive for the destiny of Pakistan, therefore, I urge all of you to acquaint yourself with requisite knowledge and strive hard for the well-being and prosperity of our country.

Dear Students!

I am extremely delighted to witness your multifarious activities, which is a clear manifestation of your natural talent, aptitude, hard work and ability to outshine in a variety of ways, exactly commensurating with the College motto, "TO WHAT HEIGHTS CAN I NOT RISE". The standards displayed by the young Hallians reflect the well worked out and comprehensive training routine being pursued at this great institution for wholesome personality development of its students. You have taken active part in curricular, co-curricular and extra curricular activities and your overall performance deserves commendation by all of us. Let me remind you that no standards in life are the ultimate and no amount of effort is ever sufficient. Your pursuit of excellence must continue unabated. In this regard, I would urge the College administration and the faculty to leave no stone unturned in imparting quality education and in preparing you to take on challenges of practical life.

In the end, I extend my heartiest congratulations to all the students who have been awarded medals and trophies and especially the Champion House for their wonderful performance in various disciplines. I pray that in the times to come, you will achieve greater success in your life, INSHAALLAH.

Thank you very much.

May Allah be with us all,

Pakistan Zindabad
Burn Hall Paindabad.

The World As I See It

The Spread of Islam

Sanan Bacha
6th Yellow

Islam was taken to other areas beyond Arabia by the groups of early Muslims who migrated to escape persecution at the hands of pagan leaders in Makkah. A large number had fled to Abyssinia during the Prophet's (PBUH) life.

The first migration in Islamic history took place before the Hijrat to Madina. A group of about eighty Muslims led by Hazrat Jafar (RA), cousin of the Prophet (PBUH) went to Abyssinia with a message of peace from the Prophet (PBUH). The ruler of Abyssinia was an honorable Christian, Negus, who gave refuge to the Muslims. He was deeply impressed when Hazrat Jafar (RA) recited verses in praise of the Prophet Hazrat Issa (AS) and his mother, Hazrat Maryam (AS).

Islam spread westwards, eastwards and northeastward with incredible speed. Often it was taken by merchants and travellers from Arabia to rest of the places. Sometimes, it was also spread by armies.

The Arab armies were relatively small but efficient. They were tough desert men who had learned to live off the land finding food from the countryside through which they passed. They did not need huge supply lines with strings of animals and carts carrying food and weapons to siege, as there were almost no wall-towns in their own land. But they learned quickly from their enemies, especially the Byzantines, how to build and use wooden machines – catapults – for hurling great rocks. They also learnt how to build siege towers for climbing city walls and battering rams for breaking down walls. Mostly they avoided heavily defended cities and swept past them. Later, when the fortresses had been cut without supplies, the Muslim armies returned to attack them in their now weakened state or more often just to receive their surrender.

“Muhammad has always been standing higher than the Christianity. He does not consider god as a human being and never makes himself equal to God. Muslims worship nothing except God and Muhammad is his Messenger. There is no any mystery and secret in it.”

- Leo Tolstoy

An Ideal Solider

Hassan Afzal
2nd Year B

The quality that distinguishes an ideal solider is love for his country. He is not one who joins the army as a mean of livelihood but one whose heart overflows with patriotic spirit. A good solider is not mere a brute but a cultured man fired with the highest love for his motherland. His love is so intense that he is prepared to offer his life gladly for the sake of his country. Can there be a more glorious and nobler sacrifice?

Another great quality of an ideal soldier is his courage. A soldier is not a soldier if he is not courageous. He is courageous by temperament and his training as a soldier and experience strengthens that quality in him. There are some men, who are not familiar with meaning of fear which helps them again to face danger or death courageously. A good soldier has mental courage, bravery of his mind and also physical courage.

As Tennyson in his poem “The Charge of the Light Brigade” says, “There is not to question why theirs but to do and die”.

The life of a soldier is a noble life. He has the opportunity of making the highest kind of sacrifice by laying down his life for his country. One who does this is a true and loyal son of the motherland.

Life is Never a Cat Walk

Umer Ahmed Arbaz Khan

Life gives us hope and courage to live. We experience both happiness and sorrows while moving ahead in life. They are two sides of the same coin. There is no single person who has not faced any problem while climbing the ladder of success. There are both joyful and sad moments in life but that does not stop us from living life to the fullest and give a full stop to our ambition.

Everyone who has made it to the top had some exceptional qualities of fighting back and not giving into failures. There are many who give up in harsh circumstances but there are fewer who fight back and not ready to surrender themselves to the unfavorable situations. It all rests in our hand while choosing a way for moving ahead. It's correctly said, "Only those who risk going too far can probably find out how far one can go".

Things are never easy for anyone. Everyone has to face life's miseries & return back to face the world with an open heart. Life is not a cat walk.

Everyone has to strive for existence in spite of all setbacks. Every person who made it to the top had persevered day and night and had dreamt to succeed. Success is hard earned entity. Sometimes we think why God chose us for so many miseries, but what we forget that God chose us to be different from the masses and do something great. If you do not strive for existence then:-

- Be prepared, to lose the money you earn with all the hard work you do.
- Be prepared, to lose your jobs to illegal immigrants.
- Be prepared, to lose the ability to send your kids to college. But also to lose your right to bear arms against enemies; foreign & domestic.

Slowly and surely without even realize it. You will "Voluntarily" give away those things that so many have fought and died for. The things taken for granted.

A Changing Life

Ziggar Khan
Pre SC

What has instant communication via email, texting and social network website done to societies all over the world? What-ever it has done, there is no doubt that it has done, there is no doubt that it has radically changed them. These changes are unlike the current cult of celebrity. It seems that what teenagers most want to be famous. Instant messages and profiles on network sites such as face book and twitter are an alternative way of being recognized and noticed. "Hi! This is me"! They say, "notice me, and be my friend!. In addition, World news headlines, sports result and weather report can all be texted to your mobile phone. Some office workers are spending 40% of their working on mobile phone. It seems society is in grip of informative overload. This means the concept of seduce is disappearing. For many young people the prospect of being alone without constant electronic communication is a frightening one. That many young people prefer to chat with online

"Friend" whom they have never met and never will rather than be with real friends, their families or their own company is also a frightening prospect. Concentrating and focus are lost and tasks are carried out merely in "performing bytes". Because of the speed with which texts are written and sent emails cause misunderstandings and pain, not just among friends, but sometimes at the highest levels of government. There have been national "RUA TXT POET" competitions which have been produced inventive and witty responses. Now recently a murderer sent a text from his victim's phone pretending to be her after her death and was caught by the mismatch of their texting style. Handwriting tells us a great deal about the writer's character and mood. What can you tell about someone whose message is printed on a screen in uniform letters? We're certainly in the middle of a technological revolution. But as with all revolutions, only time will tell where it is leading.

Sayings of Holy Prophet (PBUH)

Shahbaz Abbasi

1. In Al - Fatiah (The opening in the Quran) there is a balm of all ailments.
2. Reason is the roof of my faith.
3. Love is my foundation.

Happiness is Home Made

Muhammad Arsalan Imtiaz
2nd Year A

Regardless of whether we live in US, Pakistan or anywhere else, family is the building block of any society and our greatest fulfilment lies there; of course, one needs to give due importance to work, but if any society works diligently every other area but neglects the family, it would be same as straightening deck chairs on the Titanic.

We all seek happiness but what most of us discover is that happiness is a home - made product. If you have a strong and effective relationship with family member, whether living together or apart. When your family is heading in the right direction, you are better able to perform and focus at work. Thus it is supremely important that at home, with your family, you concentrate on creating a beautiful family.

Marriage is more than a contractual relationship it is a promise from each individual to stay true to their love at commitment while I can't tell you how to choose the right mate. I can advise you to determine, what your values and principals are and who might be a complementary companion. Happy marriages don't just happen they are created with body, mind heart and spirit no one can afford to get lazy in their relationship with their spouse. It must nurture and tended to and when it gets off the track.

One of the best ways of keeping a marriage and family effective and healthy is by living the "seven habits" these.

Renew yourself and your family by taking care of your physical, mental, social and spiritual leads don't neglect these important human needs or you'll eventually pay the price a beautiful family culture can deteriorate unless the batteries that give its power are continually recharged.

Whichever part of the globe you live always remember it is a beautiful nation with rich histories, traditions and legacy your families are at the heart of your nation don't neglect your most precious resource. We know with great surety that living principle promises to strengthen us individually in our marriage, in our families, in our communities and places of work. Stay true to your path and remember what matters most to you.

Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty

Aamir Nazir Khan
1st Year F

An artist is the most sensitive soul who feels the agony and ecstasy of life at the core of his heart. A wrinkled face and an innocent smile; a burst of laughter and a tearful eye; an ice cold dead and a warm new born; a rose bud going to flower and petals blowing in the wind can kindle his imagination equally. Experience of world to him is experience of life. He sees, he feels and with the help of his powerful imagination creates a new world; a world of hammer and chisel and tunes and colours. Creative process is always extraordinary, something sacred, something divine. Truth and sincerity are the virtues which infuse beauty into creation. He passes through ecstatic moments of creation and is generous enough to extend aesthetic pleasure to other. Literature, sculpture, music and painting are nothing but different media through which he transports others to his world of beauty.

He gives his blood and soul to the piece of art he creates. His heart beats in his creation. A poem, a symphony, a stone cut statue, what are they if not the fragments of his own being. An artist has a strange belief in his creation. Belief as strong and as simple as one can feel his vessels pulsating; his heart throbbing. A time comes when Angelo strikes his "David", "Speak, speak why don't you speak!"

We have to see only how far an artist is true to his vision; sincere at his heart and with what beauty he presents it.

At the end, I would like to express my gratitude to my Principal and teachers who, are the twilight of my studies. We are presenting an anthology of writings from the valley of chinars. All praises to the contributors and deficiencies to me. It may not be sublime but it is a sincere effort. Read it and see how far we have been true to our hearts.

"Sometimes people are beautiful.
Not in looks.
Not in what they say.
Just in what they are."

Questions of Non Muslim from a Muslim Alim

A non Muslim came to Alim and said, “Why is it not permissible in Islam for a woman to shake hands with man?” The Alim replied, “Can you shake hands with a queen.” The non Muslim said, “Of course not, there are only certain people who can shake hands with queen?” The Alim then replied, “Our women are queens and queens do not shake hands with a strange man.” Then the non Muslim asked another question, “Why do your women cover up their bodies?” The Alim smiled and got two sweets, he opened the first one and kept the other closed. He threw both on dusty floor and asked the non Muslim, “If I asked you to take one of the sweets from the floor which one will you take?” The non Muslim replied, “The covered one, of course.” The Alim said, “That’s how we treat and see our women.” The non Muslim then asked to show me God if he exists. The Alim replied, “Can you look at the sun.” The non Muslim replied, “I can’t see. The sun rays are hurting my eyes.” The Alim said, “If you can’t look at the creation of God then how will you be able to look at the Creator.” Lastly, the non Muslim invited the Alim to his house and gave him some grapes. The Alim ate them. Then the non Muslim offered him a cup of wine. The Alim refused, the non Muslim asked him, “How come you Muslims are forbidden to drink wine and yet you eat grapes although the wine comes from grapes?” The Alim replied, “Do you have a daughter?” He said, “Yes.” The Alim asked him, “Could you marry her?” The non Muslim said, “No.” The Alim said, “Subhan Allah, you marry her mother and can’t marry her although she came from her too.”

A Great Lesson

Iftikhar Ahmed
1st Year B

My eyes are closed. I don't want to open them. I don't want to live in my homeland. I don't want to smile, celebrate that I am alive. I don't want to see the world outside. But I don't even want to die. Everyone at my home, relatives and friends are asleep. The special thing is that they don't ever wake up and that's the tragedy.

My name is Mustafa. My talent was to play football. I'm silent now. My eyes do not recognize anything. Just old memories and I feel myself playing with my brothers, teasing my sisters, hugging my mother, getting knowledge from my father and running to the mosque for prayer. But I've lost my strength now. I have given up prayers and that's the reason I'm so uncomfortable. First, I wondered why I should pray I've lost everyone, so, what should I thank Allah? But soon I realized that it was the Satan speaking inside me. I should thank Allah for saving my life` I thought. But I'm not strong enough to stand up from the floor I'm lying on like an animal. It was a matter of seconds when I lost everyone I knew that unlucky Friday. A nice sunny and fine day but the situation was horrific. We all woke up early in the morning. I planned a football match with my friends after the Friday prayers. I was so excited about it. But who knows what will happen next? Still, everyone in our country is always afraid that they'll get killed too, but I never thought that. I always chose to enjoy life and not to be afraid. We were still in the mosque when I heard the sound of a blast. Everyone was scattered. I decided not to break my prayer and believe me, when I completed my prayer, no one was there, and when I went outside my hands started shivering. I don't know how but I was saved, and all the people were dead. I didn't know how to react. I just ran into my house. Time healed me. Now I'm the head of football department of UAE. Yes, I migrated but I learned a great lesson, "Never break your prayer. Don't give up prayer, and believe in Allah, the lord of the worlds."

"Nothing ever becomes real 'til it is experienced."

The Uprising of 1857 War of Independence

Haris Bin Nazir
2nd Year C

The subcontinent had great importance in the history due to natural resources. It attracted Turks, Afghan rulers and central Asian rulers. Apart from this the Britishers also took interest in the region. They settled here as traders in the reign of Mughal Emperor Jahangir. Later on, they came across the weakness of Muslims and finally they took control of whole sub-continent. The traders became the masters of the region. Muslims and Hindus joined the British government. The government made such policies which were totally antagonistic to local traditions. The policies pushed them against Britishers. They fought war against the state.

The British government considered “the uprising” as revolt. They thought that local were the servants of state and they should not have fought war. The indigenous writers considered it as war of independence. In their opinion, the Muslim & Hindu soldiers fought for their freedom and for their legal rights from which they were neglected.

In general, if we think for a while, we will come to know about the fact that the Britishers were not local ruler rather they were foreigners who deprived their rights and it was right of both Muslim and Hindu to protect their land from foreigners. So that’s why we always consider it as war of independence.

The Britishers treated Indian bestially. They were sold as slaves in Europe. They were used as guards. Their resources were used for London. Under these circumstances, the uprising of 1857 will be considered as war of independence because they fought for homeland and it will not be called as mutiny.

We have evidence from British history. Benjamin Disraeli, the opposition leader of British parliament at that time, declared the uprising of 1857 was not mutiny but it was their legal right.

From the above brief discussion, we can simply say it was war of independence. Although it was joint struggle of both Muslims and Hindus, But Muslims were targeted as cause of it.

The political party of that time i.e congress also took care of interest of Hindus. So that’s why Sir Syed Ahmed Khan told Muslim not to cooperate with congress and finally they organized their own political party named as All India Muslim League.

General Knowledge

Muhammad Noman Khalid
10th C

Deep in the corner of my mind, I had a sweet small world, a magical world, magical thoughts. This magical world embedded which is secluded from reality. It is a world into which I can escape for love, shelter and peace. It's a world far away from reality.

It's a peaceful quiet place where I can only hear the melodious voice of air, the soft rustle of whirlpools in clear, cool and the quivering and moaning of trees when the breeze touches them. It's a place where water laughs, palm trees whisper, ferns gossip while dancing.

Carnations and where mimosa laughs in the cool mist, which like a princess swirl and twirls between irises and orchards that fills the air with the scent of honey suckle. It's a place where I walk on water and dance in air. Look beyond the immediate and feel the rhythm of the air.

But Alas! My magical world disappears so soon, so suddenly again my wishes and I have to embrace the cruel reality of this world. This world is like a castle in the sand. It has to fall apart. But a hope, which keeps me alive is that this is an external world, which will always live within me.

How to Achieve Success

Muhammad Hassan Sardar
10th D

How to achieve success? What are the secrets of success? Why are few so lucky as to process it while many others fail? Why does nothing succeed like success? These are some of the important questions which often trouble us. These also clearly show how important success is. Ask the people who have no taste of it. According to Emily Dickenson, “success is counted sweetest by those who never succeed. To comprehend nectar/requires sores need”. No doubt most of the people are in dire need of it for they have never tasted its nectar. Even those who have its taste would consider themselves most unfortunate when deprived of it. The history of mankind shows that only those who have been spectacularly successful in their attempts find place in it.

The path to success lies through struggle, strife, hard work, To achieve success is not easy and to maintain it, even more difficult.

Hard labour ultimately wins, therefore, it is necessary that people who desire to be successful, give in to hard labour and work. The same thought is expressed by R.L Stevenson thus. “To travel hopefully is better to arrive and the true success is to labour”. For success one needs 99% preparation and only 1% inspiration. There is no substitute for hard work. Perseverance and tolerance takes one to the top. Those who talk of luck, intelligence and institution as the only steps of the leader leading to success are not to be believed. Nothing great good and lasting can be achieved by inspiration or incite alone. Patience, perseverance, perspiration and labour are the – foundation on which you can build your mansion of success. Even with great luck and genius, people have had to toil hard to be successful and famous as politicians, actors, painters, musicians, businessmen’s, sports person’s or men of letters. Perseverance and perspirations are the other names of good fortune and success. Most of the people fail only because their efforts are feeble, half hearted and they lack the quality of the good and hardworking animal. Remember the story of king Bruce? He could succeed and vanquish his enemy because he never lost courage and heart, made persistent efforts until never lost the courage and heart. Tenzing Norgay only a Sherpa and porter became world famous for his conquest of the Mount Everest but he had to make more than a dozen attempts before success and victory finally came.

It is rightly said that where there is a will there is a way. Strong determination, will power and motivation are the other necessary ingredients of success. The word “impossible” is only in the dictionary of fools and frail. Nothing is impossible or unachievable in the world, if the efforts are in the right direction and backed by strong will. Our desires mostly remain unfulfilled because they are mere wishes. They lack strong urge and motivation.

God helps those who help themselves. We should differentiate between 'wish' and 'will'. Will means unflinching determination, perseverance, labour and struggle leading to sweet success and fulfillment. Will power is a great motivating force more powerful than atomic energy. It has changed the course of history and fortunes of mankind. Remember Alexander, Chanakya, Joan of Arc, Tilak and Napoleon. They were the very embodiments of strong will power. The same common clay of determination was used in shaping them out.

Nothing can defeat one's purpose, if it is backed by strong resolve and determination not even heavy odds, objects poverty and hardships. A determined person can even snatch victory and success from the jaws of defeat. Such a man can win great battles against heavy odds and large armies with the handful of determined and dedicated soldiers. There is no gain without pain. Such a person does not believe in luck or favours of dame fortune. His faith is always firm as a rock and so ultimately, he is bound to be crowned with success.

Another requirement of success is doing things then and there. Procrastination is the thief of time. Time is precious, more valuable than money and rulers. Lost time can never be recovered or compensated. Time is opportunity, once lost, it's never returns. All successful men and women and all great persons have been great economists of time. They have also been punctual in their habits and work. Culture and civilization, great discoveries and inventions, conquests and achievements owe much to them who have made the best use of time and opportunities. They never waited for an opportunity but created one for themselves. They did the maximum in minimum time. For them life was too short and there was so much to be done and achieved. A proper use of time means proper use of opportunity. Remember the famous words of Shakespeare, if you want to achieve success:-

1. There is a tide in affairs of man
2. Which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune.
3. Omitted, all the voyage of their life.
4. Is bound in shallow and miseries.
5. On such a full sea are we are afloat.
6. And we must take the current when it serves or lose our ventures.

Always define your aims, objectives and priorities well with care and pursue them honestly, with your full heart, mind and soul. Having decided your aim, move forward with steady steps towards it, without looking left or right. Never be ashamed of your work and position, however humble it might be. Cherish it with all your being because all work is sacred, so perform it well. Even you are engaged in shoe - making, make your shoes perfect. This is the only secret of success. Be always a learner. Learn from others and from object of nature. Know your strength and weakness and enlarge the former and reduce and finally eliminate the latter. Never find fault with your luck or tools, always engage yourself in doing the right things, in the right place and time to achieve success. Never forget that good aims are not sufficient, they must be achieved by noble means. Aims are significant but so are the means success is also a mean and an end in itself.

The Aim of Education

Muhammad Abdullah Tahir Doggar
10th D

The main aim of education is the all round development of a student. Thus, the objectives to be achieved through education and training are many and comprehensive. Education helps in achieving and developing skills, abilities, insights and scientific temper. Education aims at developing and bringing out the best of student's inner personality, without neglecting the outer and material aspects. Education also means that students are made capable of standing on their own feet, to earn their bread and butter. An educated person is supposed to face the challenges of life bravely and successfully. No person can be called properly educated if he or she fails in making a meaningful contribution to the society and country.

The purpose of education is to strike a proper balance between inner and outer, emotional and practical aspects of one's personality and life. If it is not done, it is not done, it will result in an imbalanced development of the personality. All round development means the growth and development of a mind, spirit and body. All these integral and interdependent aspects shouldn't be neglected. Man is emotional as well as rational both these aspects should be properly developed so as to form parts of an integrated and organic whole. Man is neither a thinking machine nor a heap of emotions; he is not a bundle of flesh and bones, if one is simply guided by emotions, one's vision is bound to be distorted. Similarly, if one goes by reason alone then one would be a mere thinking robot.

The main task of education is to produce useful, intelligent, patriotic, emotionally integrated, morally strong, cultured, scientifically tempered and healthy young men and women. In short the aim or objective of education should be proper integration and harmony between feeling, thinking and doing.

One of the primary aims of education is to develop character. Now, character is a very comprehensive term and means not only pattern of behaviour of an individual but also moral strength, mental presence, self discipline, fortitude and reputation etc. Most of our modern problems have their origin in our lack of strong moral character. The modern age has been suffering from the crisis of character. If the character of the people is improved, many of the problems would take care of themselves. If the character of the people of a country is strong it will be very easy to overcome any crisis. It is said that if character is lost, everything is lost. According to a poet

“Sow a habit and you reap a character. Sow a character and you reap a destiny”

Thus the men of character are the men of destiny only those with strong moral characters have capabilities to control and guide the destinies of nations and the world.

Muhammad Ali Jinnah (Quaid e Azam) is one of the great example of man of destiny.

The education imparted in our schools, colleges and personalities of the students to enable them to face the realities of life with courage and confidence. In this context the valuable concept of basic education championed by Quaid e Azam comes to the mind. Basic education means that it should be based on work experience. It should aim on producing artisans, craftsman, doctors, engineers, teachers, technicians and other such professionals who may set up their own workshop, factories, mills, dispensaries and schools etc.

The developed and the advanced countries like Japan, Canada, America, France, Germany etc are so because they are continuously investing heavily in education for the last many years. Good moral character, scientific temper, selfness of purpose, fortitude and sense of human values, like compassion, truth, peace, non violence and charity are some other aspects of education.

Computer and The Holy Quran

Muhammad Ahmad
1st Year F

Allah Almighty is the creator of mankind and man is the inventor of computer and its associated technologies. In many ways man and PC (personal computer) work intimately in similar fashion. By comparing their default function, customized operations and common features. We can analyze them in the following manner.

- i. Hardware and software: the computer hardware is installed with software. In human logically body is installed with the RUH as Allah has told us in Quran.
- ii. Virtuous and Evil Deeds: The man in the presence of RUH is competent enough to perform virtuous or evil deeds on similar contents. The computer in the presence of operating software can undertake a variety of activities for humanity. Both useful as well as harmful that's similar to spread of cyber – crimes, viruses and worms, vulgarity and profanity etc.

Antivirus and spiritual protective shield: For every new product the OEM introduces technical manual and launches trainings and workshops for guidance. Due to mishandling of PCs or avoiding standard software protection procedures, the software get corrupted or show frequently malfunctioning by reason of viruses and worms or as a result of hackers/crackers intervention. To cater for such problems the system requires a protection system, antivirus software. Repeatedly refreshed and patched and system has to be scanned regularly after each updates sparing some useful time the human being, by default has to perform virtuous deeds and the same is mentioned in instructional manual for mankind (Holy Quran). But implicitly or explicitly the man does not maintain desired decorum performs evil deeds and follow the footsteps of devil. To protect the man, the almighty has offered a hierarchic defensive shield composed of repeated SALAH (Namaz) regular SAUM (fast) and top antivirus like ISTAGHFAR and TAUBA and DUA. Therefore, the man is required to protect and refresh with righteous activities and scan himself in silent hours.

Faith and Computer functions are binary:- Remember Allah himself is being (one) and the rest of the things in whole universe are binary (zero). All computer functions and operations are binary. It means either one or zero similarly the faith (in Allah) is also binary i.e completely into submission of Allah (means one) and follow not (means zero) the footsteps of the devil.

Protect RUH Protect software: the computer user puts in best effort to keep the computer software operational and update by regular installations (of, OS or applications) and using different techniques and engage him/her self in executing programs where as user puts in little (or sometimes no) effort to protect the hardware consistently on contrary, the human invests in all efforts to make the body (hardware) healthy and presentable in the society but our social and physical science did not define any mechanism to nourish, protect and purify the ultimate software i-e (RUH). Against the will of Allah, the msn pays more attention to care the body as compared to (RUH). That is why, the Prophet Muhammad (SAW) directed us not to fill in the bellies to much, eat simple, avoid excessive sleep and wakeup midnight for remembrance (of Allah) for spiritual attainment. The beneficial stuff for health of RUH is good deeds, Allah consciousness and ZIKR calling names and remembrance of Allah.

Our Education System

Shahmir Muhammad
6th Red

Education means “enlighten” or “acknowledgement”. It also means the development of the whole personality. All the developed countries have an organized and well planned system of education which gives their students a specific aim and make them honorable and cultured citizen. This is the system of education which makes its citizen good human being by their social and ethical development that is why education system should be well organized and planned.

Firstly the great failure of our education system is that there is no clarity about the medium of education Urdu and English both the languages are intermingled with each other in our many institutions. That’s why students are unable to comprehend both the languages and they remain passive they also fail to get perception and perfection in both the languages in our schools. English is made compulsory but it is presented before students in such away that it seems very difficult.

Further another glaring drawback of our education system is its teachers. Teachers who are regarded as the back bone in the education system of any country. These are the teachers that may play significant role in making the students good human beings or in making them praise worthy personalities.

I would say that education system should be well organized and according to the need of the present time.

Birds

Muhammad
1st Red

If I could be any animal in the world, I would be a bird. There is no particular bird that I would most enjoy being. I could be the smallest blue jay or the most dangerous hawk; neither is more intriguing to me. There are two reasons why I would like to be a bird and only one reason I would not. I believe that the bird is a beautiful creature and I also believe that the birds are the most amazing animal on earth. Most have the ability to fly. Some use ground travel, some use claws and other use only their beaks. Birds come the luckiest creature to ever live. But then there are the few downsides of being a bird. The downsides are few, but significant. Let's take the penguin for example. What terrible thing could a bird have done to be a wingless, legless birds stuck in the middle of the South Pole. The poor things must be miserable! I know that if I were a bird, I would prefer to have wings and legs.

Another downside would be captivity. Now I am human and all but I were looking the life from a bird's point of view, I would have to say captivity isn't exactly what I would be striving for. Part of the fun about being a bird would have to be freedom that comes along with it. The freedom of a bird is one of the major reasons I choose this creature. A bird has the freedom to live wherever he/she pleases.

A nest could be built almost anywhere! Birds also have the credible ability to see the world from a point of view completely different from our own. They can fly! They can see things, smell things and touch things that are so far beyond our reach in so many ways. This is why I believe that the birds are the luckiest creature on this earth.

But

Mudassar Khan
6th Green

- Practice makes a man perfect, but all work, no play, makes jack a dull boy.
- A bird in hand is worth than two in the bush but a man's desires exceed his grasp.
- If at first you don't succeed try try again, but don't beat a dead horse.
- A good beginning makes a good ending but it's not over till it's over.

Life is Not a Bed of Roses

Mahad Khan
10th D

It is commonly said that “life is not a bed of roses” the meaning of this phrase is that those who think or take life comfortable and full of luxuries without any difficulty really live in fool’s paradise, in fact, life is full of complexities and struggle. Struggle and hard work is necessary for any kind of real and great success in life.

In life we have to struggle to achieve higher aims and on the other hand higher aims require greater struggle. It is said by someone, “Life is full of difficulties, meet them, treat them, and try to defeat them.”

Efforts and determination are also very essential in life. No success is a ripe fruit which drops without effort in the mouth.

We have also golden chances and opportunities in life and ironically some time we take it casually and often we lose these opportunities.

At the end, we need struggle, determination, spirit and courage as life requires hardwork and efforts from us. Those who sit idle or lazy do not succeed well.

My Loving Father

Mirza Faraz Baig

My father is always there whenever I find difficulties anywhere I never feel lonely anywhere because his love is always near.

My father is very caring. His heart is full of sharing. His guidance makes me daring in every field of playing.

He is the greatest father in the world. He loves me from the core of his heart. Oh father! Let me express my sentiments in many a word. I love you more than anything in the world.

Why do We Doubt that Life Exists in Space

Hassan Ali
8th D

In the 1950s, British astronomer Fred Boyle pointed out that, when the earth was created, its elements were mixed in the right proportions for life to emerge, living organisms have almost equal numbers of carbon and oxygen atoms. Too little oxygen would have deprived the earth of rock and soil; too much would have denied existence to the basic molecules in living organisms.

One by one, probes far into space have revealed conditions so different from anything on earth that it seems that life as we know it is unlikely anywhere else in our solar system. Our galaxy has 100,000 million stars and other bodies. So far we have tested comparatively few planets and their satellites, but many scientists say that the possibility of life exists on mars. In 1976, Viking I and Viking 2 examined. The soil on Mars for signs of microscopic life. None was found, but nobody is yet bold enough to close the casebook. Mars has many different environments. One of them could have something resembling out bacteria.

Despite all the doubts a $100 million, ten year program began in October 1992 to search for signals from other civilizations. The quest by the United States National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), is called SETI, the search for extra-terrestrial intelligence.

On an intensive scale, it is in two parts: one targets 1000 specific stars the other scans vast region of the sky. The world's largest radio telescope at Arecibo in Puerto Rico and others at Greenbank, West Virginia and Goldstone in California's Mojave Desert explore the northern skies. Australia's Parkes radio telescope surveys the south. Results go to a computer so powerful that it can make 1000 million tests every second to shift messages sent possibly by an alien civilization from signals occurring naturally in space.

What do researchers expect to find? With luck, a simple message indicating we are here.....we are here. If the quest yields nothing, it will confirm some, already believe, that through a remarkable combination of events, Earth alone received all necessities of life. That provides another good reason to protect it. If we ruin our planet, we'll have nowhere else to go.

With it this we view gain
Of all those red, greens and blues,

It's my dream that can't be true
But nothing is impossible because
Always there is I'm possible

Oh God! Make my dream come true
No need to work
No need to read
Just eat and eat
Oh God! This is my dream

Who sat and watched my infant head
When sleeping on my cradle bed
And fears of sweet affection shed

My Mother

Who dressed me in clothes nice & gay
And fondly taught me how to play
And minded all I had to say

My Mother

Who ran to help me when I fell
And would some briefly story tell
Or kiss my head to make me well

My Mother

And can I ever cease to be
Affectionate & kind to thee

Who was so kind to me

My mother

When thou are feeble, old & gooey
My healthy arm shall be thy stay
And I will soothe thy pairs away

Every day when I rise

I see my mother's eyes

At that time one thing comes in my mind

What! She will be doing at that time

I feel that she is bugging me

Loving and affectionately

At that time my eyes are full of tears

Her voice runs in my ears

I want to go back to her

But I have to fulfill her dreams

To be an army officers in my future

May Allah bless her with all blessing she wants

And also with those she can't get

For my dearest mother

My mother, the best mother

Drama is the fountain of life for the children. It gives sparkle to home, school or wherever children gather. Children are actors without stage fright. They perform as expertly to an empty hall as to a full house. They say what they feel and feel what they say. They unashamedly use enormous conceptions and unintentional puns. Creativity abounds, children ride a plant 'horse', eat sand 'cakes' and drink water 'drinks' without apology for their realism. If adult have sensitive ears, eyes and hearts, they may be moved from the deepest anguish to poetic ecstasy or be entertained by rollicking slap stick.

Drama is something that we all engage in daily life. Drama has a role to play in all the four skills; reading, writing, speaking and listening. This year too the Drama Club of the College was busy in the creative faculties of the Hallians. On the occasion of Annual Parents Day and Prize Distribution Ceremony, they presented an English Play 'Twelfth Night' which was very well appreciated by the guests and also a tableau based on the song of Jawad Ahmed to highlight the sense of patriotism among the masses. Apart from these the young Hallians long sang various folk songs to show the national harmony.
